

Now in its second century, East Carolina University stands on a strong foundation of service, leadership, and quality. A national doctoral university with more than 27,000 students, East Carolina is the fastest-growing university in the state of North Carolina.

♦♦♦♦♦♦♦♦

East Carolina is guided by a vision for leadership and service. Here are some examples of how this university is shaping a brighter tomorrow. Here are some reasons why ECU is the right place for you.

www.international.ecu.edu

An equal opportunity/affirmative action university, which accommodates the needs of individuals with disabilities.

U.P. 11-113 ♻️ Printed on recycled paper.
xxx copies of this public document were printed at a cost of $xxx, or $xxx per copy.

East Carolina University
Tomorrow starts here.

East Carolina
at a glance

Office of International Affairs

PROGRAMS

East Carolina is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, allowing us to offer more than 200 bachelor's degree programs, master's degree programs, specialist degree programs, and doctoral programs, as well as a first-professional MD program, in our professional colleges and schools.

East Carolina, through its Office of International Affairs, helps international students make a smooth transition from their home country and culture to the United States. The university assists our international students throughout their time here to help ensure they have a rewarding and complete educational experience.

The university is recognized statewide, nationally, and internationally for innovative and high-quality academic programs in education, health care, business, the liberal arts, technology, science, industry, and other areas that prepare leaders to serve successfully in their professional careers.

ECU is intentional in its role as an institution that stresses the development of leadership skills for every member of the university community. Specialized leadership-training programs are available to students to help them succeed on and off campus.

SUCCESS

East Carolina is the statewide leader in teaching future educators, allied-health practitioners, nurses, and hospitality management professionals.

The Brody School of Medicine at East Carolina University is consistently ranked nationally for its programs in primary care, family medicine, and rural medicine.

Our College of Business is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business and is a member of the Graduate Management Admission Council.

The university's construction-management program is the largest such program in the southeastern United States.

ECU leads all institutions of higher learning in North Carolina in distance-education enrollment, empowering students to earn advanced degrees without having to attend classes on campus as they would in traditional academic programs.

The only accredited art program in North Carolina, our School of Art and Design is the largest art school in North Carolina and one of the largest in the Southeast.

CAMPUS

East Carolina is located in Greenville, North Carolina, a growing city of more than 80,000. Greenville has a relatively mild climate and experiences all four seasons. The average summer temperature is 29 degrees Celsius, while the average winter temperature is 7 degrees Celsius.

East Carolina students can live in one of 15 residence halls, eat in a variety of restaurants and cafés, and choose from countless events and services all year long.

East Carolina's School of Music and School of Theatre and Dance are home to internationally acclaimed touring groups, a summer theatre series, dance performances, musical theatre productions, recitals, opera theatre, and guest artists. Nationally known artists and performers are members of our faculty.

East Carolina's more than 300 student organizations help the campus community stay involved in a wide variety of fun and interesting ways.

East Carolina is home to an exciting NCAA Division I-A athletics program that features 17 men's and women's teams, including football, baseball, basketball, swimming, and softball.

Learn more about East Carolina University online at www.ecu.edu.