

The College of Arts and Sciences,
The Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures, and Classical Studies invite you to a lecture by

The Whichard Distinguished Professor of Humanities

Charles M. Fantazzi

The Two Cultures at the Millenium

An ever-widening gap exists between the scientific and the humanistic disciplines, which has resulted in mutual incomprehension and even hostility. It portends grave problems for the future of education. Is some rapprochement possible?

Monday, April 12
4 pm
GCB 1026

A reception will follow in GCB 1006, hosted by the College of Arts and Sciences