

The East Carolina University Program in Classical Studies in cooperation with the Office of the Provost, the Program in Great Books, the Dept. of Classics at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the Dept. of Classics at Duke University presents

Dr. Oswyn Murray

Balliol College, University of Oxford

“The Young Refugee: Arnaldo Momigliano on Peace and Liberty (1940)”

Arnaldo Momigliano

Arnaldo Momigliano (1908–1987) was an Italian historian who specialized in the history and historiography of ancient Greece and Rome as well as the classical foundations of modern historiography. He spent most of his career at Cambridge University and the University of Chicago, after fleeing the anti-Semitic laws of Fascist Italy.

Oswyn Murray, himself an eminent student of ancient history and historiography, has been studying Momigliano’s life and works for nearly 20 years. His presentation will discuss the lectures given by Momigliano in Cambridge after he fled Italy.

Thursday, April 23, 2009
4:00 p.m.      SciTech C209

Dr. Murray’s lecture tour continues on Friday, April 24 at UNC-Chapel Hill, where he will speak on:

“The Invention of Historiography: Arnaldo Momigliano and the Eighteenth Century”
