Programs Offered
The History Department offers two separate master’s degree programs: the M.A. in the History with concentrations in American, European, Military, Atlantic World, or Public history; and the M.A. in Maritime Studies, which is an interdisciplinary program emphasizing history and nautical archaeology. Currently, ECU is the only university in North Carolina (and one of the few in the nation) to offer an interdisciplinary master’s degree in maritime history and nautical archaeology.

Required Items for Your Application
- Three letters of recommendation
- Official copies of all college transcripts
- A statement of purpose
- Official copy of GRE scores

Please contact the Graduate School for questions concerning your application or the application process.

Admissions
Application deadline: January 15 if applying for graduate assistantship and April 1 for those who do not want to be considered for a graduate assistantship.

Graduate Assistantships
Graduate assistantships are available for full-time students. A limited number of out of state tuition remissions are available for highly qualified out-of-state residents, thereby reducing tuition to the in-state level. In addition, the History Department annually awards a number of graduate scholarships on a competitive basis.

Thesis
The major written requirement for the MA Studies and MA Studies Maritime is a master’s thesis. A thesis is an examination of a well-defined historical subject that relies chiefly on primary sources, published or unpublished, to form an argument.
