ECU Professor Named Fellow of American Psychological Association

GREENVILLE, N.C. (Nov. 27, 2012) — Dr. Heather Littleton, associate professor in the Department of Psychology at East Carolina University, recently was named a Fellow of the American Psychological Association. Fellow status is an honor bestowed upon APA members who have shown evidence of unusual and outstanding contributions or performance in the field of psychology that has had a national impact on the field. Littleton was awarded fellowship status through Division 35 (Psychology of Women) of the APA. Applicants for fellowship through Division 35 must receive letters of endorsement from three current Division 35 fellows, and they must demonstrate evidence of outstanding and unusual contributions that have had national or international impact in the psychology of women. Littleton was one of three individuals named as a Fellow through Division 35.
