Leah Joyner:
Leah Joyner is the Education Coordinator for The Carolina Farm Stewardship Association where she manages regional farm tours and performs key roles for CFSA’s two annual conferences. She holds a BA in Sustainable Development and a BS in Technical Photography from Appalachian State University, and a MS in Sustainable Tourism from East Carolina University. She has also worked on agritourism development with the Greenbrier Valley Pasture Network in West Virginia, and coauthored several academic articles, technical reports and practitioner resources involving food systems, marketing, sustainable agriculture, and agritourism issues in the Carolinas.