1. Big Ben’s clock is decorated with the names of people who have lived in London. Which of these names do you recognize?

2. What is the significance of the clock face on Big Ben?

3. The term “Big Ben” is often used to refer to the clock tower itself, but it actually refers to the bell inside. True or False?

4. How is the clock face on Big Ben different from the clock faces on other historical clocks?

5. London underground system is extensive, but it is not considered to be as extensive as the subway system in New York City. True or False?

6. The Underground system in London is sometimes called the Tube because of the circular shapes of the tunnels. True or False?

7. The Underground system in London is sometimes called the Tube because of the circular shapes of the tunnels. True or False?

8. London underground system is extensive, but it is not considered to be as extensive as the subway system in New York City. True or False?

9. The Underground system in London is sometimes called the Tube because of the circular shapes of the tunnels. True or False?

10. London underground system is extensive, but it is not considered to be as extensive as the subway system in New York City. True or False?