

Student Connection

Give yourself an advantage! Become a student member of the American Health Information Management Association and receive these great benefits:

Access to the on-line community of HIM students. Begin building a network of peers without borders! On the Student Community of Practice web site you can post conversation threads, ask questions and have on-line chats – it’s a great way to share information with your fellow AHIMA student members! You’ll also find valuable information on job-hunting, career paths, and more.

Access to other AHIMA Communities of Practice (CoP): If you have a special interest in the field of HIM, from Coding to E-health to Home Health, there is a special CoP for you! You will also have access to other AHIMA on-line services, including the JOB BANK.

FORE: HIM Body of Knowledge: Your online library of HIM information is right at your fingertips. Research information for use at school or work and accessed through Communities.

Journal of AHIMA: The award-winning Journal of AHIMA is packed full of valuable professional advice and up-to-date information on the HIM field.

The “Student Connection” electronic newsletter. This newsletter is put together by HIM students and sent to all student members of AHIMA. It will include articles about what is going on in various HIM programs, as well as success stories from HIM students and grads.

Monthly “Student Connection” Emails: Each month, AHIMA student members will receive an email focusing on an aspect of the HIM profession that would be of interest to students. Topics for 2003 will include information on Certification, Career Opportunities and much more.

Coming in 2003– AHIMA Mentor Program: Most students will find a mentor in at least one of their instructors. But finding a mentor who is our practicing in the HIM field isn’t as easy – unless you are a student member of AHIMA, and can take advantage of the AHIMA Mentor Program.

Discounts: Student members receive valuable discounts on AHIMA products and services.
