

Brad Sikes

HIPAA Security Specialist

252-744-4188

sikesm@ecu.edu

Brad Sikes is a HIPAA Security Specialist within the ECU HIPAA Security Office. He assists in overseeing and managing regulatory compliance related to the availability, integrity, and confidentiality of electronic protected health information that is used for clinical decision making and healthcare operations throughout East Carolina University. Mr. Sikes received his Bachelor of Science in Industrial Technology from East Carolina University. Mr. Sikes began working at East Carolina University in 2012 within Information Technology and Computer Services (ITCS) as the User Account Manager for the university.