

Amy Goddard (1999) is living in Little Rock, Arkansas. She is the therapy coordinator at Easter Seals Children's Rehabilitation Center. It is a 40-bed inpatient rehab for children age 3-21. She manages the department of 9 therapists and 5 therapy aides. Her specialty is pediatrics with a special interest in TBI. She is a certified kinesiotape practitioner and has attended many courses on SI and pediatric NDT, although she is not certified. She loves working with kids and enjoys some parts of managing a department, although managing people can be a challenge. She is married and has two boys. She enjoys riding horses and running. She has also worked/work different contract jobs. One job that she has found really interested is doing chart review or quality control for state funded clients. She has also "incorporated" herself to have her own business and thoughts of her own clinic, although she believes being a mom is more important.
