

Edith (Smith) Hunt

Edith graduated in 1992 and she resides in Ayden, NC. She is married to Cal Hunt and they have three children, Brandon (13 years old), Ava (4 years old) , and Emery (1 year old). She is currently the Rehab Services Manager at Lenoir Memorial Hospital in Kinston, NC and she supervises all of the PT, OT, ST and RT services as well as the Interfacility Transportation department. She has worked in just about all the different clinical settings including SNF, school systems, home health, inpatient rehab, acute medical and even taught a few classes at PCC for the COTA program. She doesn't get to do a lot of patient treatment now, but she loves working with patients with neurological diagnoses such as head injuries or CVA and she also enjoys shoulder rehab. Her hobbies are playing racquetball, going to the beach, camping and spending time with her husband and children. Her favorite class memories are the trip to Daytona Beach for spring break with several classmates during her senior year and working on the presentation for the pinning ceremony that "remembered" each of her classmates and professors. Her best work moments are usually the little ones, when a patient is able to do something for themselves the very first timer or when a discharged patient comes back to the facility to visit and tells her all the things they can now do because of the therapy that was provided.
