

Kristen (Wilson) Miller

Kristen graduated in 1994 and she now resides in Salisbury, North Carolina. She is married to Joseph Miller and they have a daughter, Brenna. Her greatest class memory was going to the NC OT conference in Asheville with her classmates. Her hobbies include scrap booking, reading and watching “cheesy” horror flicks. Kristen received her Advanced Master’s Degree in OT in 2002. She wants to perhaps take and pass the CHT exam in the future. She is currently working at Lexington Memorial Hospital in Lexington, NC. Kristen has stated that every day at Lexington Memorial is an adventure. Some of the jobs that she’s had in the future were: home health, nursing homes and hospital inpatient and outpatient. Her specialty areas include hand therapy and geriatrics.
