The Student Guidebooks

This book is the second of three guides designed to give you plenty of information about East Carolina and its many offerings.

Visit www.ecu.edu/admissions for all three guidebooks.
Complete Your Campus Living Contract

East Carolina University believes that living on campus is an important part of the college experience. Fall 2015 freshmen are required to pay the $100 ECU enrollment deposit, then submit a campus housing preference as well as pay the $100 advanced room fee and $100 application fee by May 1 (earlier is better if you have a campus neighborhood preference). First choice of accommodations on campus is granted on a first-come, first-served basis.

STEP ONE
Verify that you have properly set up your Pirate ID and email. If not, see the instructions provided in your first guidebook.

STEP TWO
Visit the Campus Living web page at www.ecu.edu/cs-studentaffairs/campusliving/newstudents.cfm and follow the instructions provided to apply online as a new student.

In the meantime, if you have any questions regarding your housing options at East Carolina or the contracting process, please contact the Office of Campus Living by visiting www.ecu.edu/campusliving, or call us at 252-328-4663.
What About Campus Life?

By choosing East Carolina, you made the decision to come to a place where you will build memories and friendships that will last forever.

Making the transition to college life can be challenging, but here’s one thing over which you don’t need to stress: where you’re going to live. As a freshman at East Carolina, you’re guaranteed a room in one of our residence halls!

All freshmen must live on campus as a part of a common experience to bond new students to the university and support them through the crucial first year of college. (Students who meet specific requirements may request an exemption to the policy.) When you choose your neighborhood, you also choose your neighbors and friends. We want you to live with the person with whom you’ll be most comfortable. By completing the (optional) roommate profile, you can help us create your ideal living situation and make your first year on campus as fulfilling as possible.

Regardless of your assigned residence hall, you will enjoy the same benefits as any other student on campus. You’ll live near campus eateries and other centers of student activity. You won’t need to worry about bringing your own appliances. When you need to go to class or visit the library, you’ll be within a couple minutes’ walking distance. Your new friends will live next door or right down the hall. The ECU Police Department provides a secure atmosphere in which you can live. And, you’ll join previous generations of Pirates who made long-lasting memories during their first year on campus.
Campus Living

The Office of Campus Living at East Carolina is all about college tradition—a tradition of making the most of the college experience by being right in the center of it all.

Campus Living recognizes the importance of learning both in and outside the classroom by providing programs that will enable you to build lasting relationships, foster leadership and self-determination, develop cultural awareness, and participate in community programs. Visit www.ecu.edu/campusliving or call 252-328-4663 for more information, and be sure to read this section for details.

Here’s a closer look at some of the specific services Campus Living provides.

CAMPUS LIVING EXTRAS

Every residence hall comes with the basic comforts—beds, desks with chairs, chests-of-drawers, window coverings, closets or wardrobes, and a study or lounge area nearby—plus the following great features, which are included in your housing contract fee.
Cable television: A wide range of cable channels—including news and sports—are available in all residence hall rooms. Also included is Campus 31, the university’s closed-circuit television station. All you need to bring is a cable-ready television and a cable cord.

Computer network: Every residence hall room has both wired and wireless Internet available, each student has an email account, and there are a number of computer labs both in the residence halls and in the academic buildings.

Excellent tastes: Our dining program offers you a variety of great food in our dining halls, food courts, convenience stores, and coffee bars. All of our dining locations have convenient operating hours to serve you.

At your service: Neighborhood Service Offices are open seven days a week. Visit your nearest office when you need a replacement key, a vacuum cleaner, room-change services, or someone to receive a package for you. Maintenance services are available around the clock. Housekeeping services are provided in the common areas.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS
Several residence halls at ECU include housing for special programs that focus on getting students involved in the college experience. Students with special interests and academic goals choose to live and study together in these halls. www.ecu.edu/cs-studentaffairs/campusliving/community.cfm

Leadership: If you value academic success, have earned leadership awards, and seek the challenges of expanding your leadership skills, then you are a candidate for the Jarvis Hall Leadership program. For more information, see the leadership option on your Campus Living Contract.

Living Learning Communities: Two of the options for living on campus are our Living Learning Communities (LLC) and Theme Housing programs. LLC and Theme Housing communities were both created to provide students with the opportunity to experience the transition to a larger university in smaller, more personal units. They are both designed to assist in the academic transition to university instruction, to support the student-faculty interaction beyond the classroom, and to encourage positive student connections within the university. Students who reside in a learning community take at least two classes together during the fall semester, which is not the case for students living in Theme Housing. Research does show that students who reside in these special living communities tend to have higher grade point averages than other students and their retention rate toward graduation from the university is much higher than students living in other living situations. The Campus Living website will have the most up-to-date information on LLC and Theme Housing options.

Wellness Living Learning Community: The Wellness Living Learning Community is designed for students who desire to make health and wellness a top priority as part of their college experience. A major benefit of the community is that it engages students in healthy lifestyles that contribute to academic success. Students will receive specialized wellness classes and opportunities to participate in health-related, community-service projects. Experience gained will help students succeed today and build resumes for the future.

CAMPUS SAFETY

East Carolina is committed to the safety of every student, faculty member, and staff member. In particular, the campus safety division, housed in the ECU Police Department, empowers students, faculty, and staff with the knowledge and awareness to maintain a safe campus.

The division works to ensure a safe physical setting at East Carolina—including lighting, entrances, and landscaping—by providing continuous educational programming on security issues on and off campus. State-of-the-art safety and security technology such as security cameras and emergency call phones are installed throughout campus. Safety patrols and fire drills, combined with regular safety and security inspections, make East Carolina the safest place possible to live, study, and socialize.

Increased off-campus security measures, such as the Safe Ride van, protect students, faculty, and staff as they navigate and negotiate transportation needs on campus and in surrounding areas.

Student Profile:

Courtney Dupree

Raleigh, North Carolina

Courtney Dupree came to East Carolina University ready to take on broadcast journalism. While aiding urban and at-risk communities through Operation Sunshine and living an active student lifestyle, she soon discovered her passion for public relations. Courtney is well on her way to fulfilling her dreams; she remains actively involved with her sorority, Alpha Delta Pi, as membership education vice president. She continues to serve her campus community as a tutor with the Pirate Tutoring Center, an intern for the athletic department, a mentor with Project Eye to Eye, and a blogger for College STAR. One could say she has definitely learned the meaning of leadership and service during her college experience.

Highlighting her dedication and hard work, Courtney has been on the Dean’s List, is an ECU Residential Scholarship recipient, and is a two-time Alumni Association Scholarship recipient. She is a motivated individual and believes being a Pirate has given her a new value and drive for life. She says, “ECU has given me the confidence to want to help change the world.”

ECU residents live in one of three different neighborhoods on campus, each with a personality all its own.
Welcome to the Neighborhood

East Carolina students live in one of three neighborhoods on Main Campus, eat in a variety of restaurants and cafés, and choose from countless events and services all year long.

We have plenty of options to suit your interests and tastes. While you’re living on campus, we have the right option for you based on your needs and lifestyle. All of our residence halls come with beds, desks, baths, and laundry facilities. Rooms come with high-speed Internet access and cable TV. Each student has access to the neighborhood computer lab, and a wireless network runs throughout the public areas of the residence halls.

Our two dining halls offer all-access, continuous dining, and enough options to satisfy any appetite. Four food courts, two convenience stores, and four coffee bars on campus also keep you well fed. Whether you are in the mood for a hearty breakfast, a quick lunch, a sit-down dinner, or a late-night snack, we’ve got what you’re looking for.

Here’s a closer look at our College Hill, Central, and West End neighborhoods. Check out what we have to offer.
College Hill Neighborhood

You’ll never run out of things to do on the Hill.

The College Hill neighborhood is nestled between East Carolina’s academic buildings and its athletics complex, meaning you’re just a short walk away from classes during the week and sporting events on game days. In the neighborhood itself are six residence halls, a fitness facility, a dining hall, a food court, and a convenience store. The neighborhood has all you need within walking distance, and there’s usually someone else going your way.

EastPointe Plaza is the center of activity on College Hill. The plaza is an indoor/outdoor social scene that offers a variety of dining and activity choices with the Galley food court, the Pirate Market P.O.D. convenience store, and the Fitness Pointe workout facility. College Hill is also home to several great long-running ECU traditions, including King and Queen of the Halls and the Pirate 500. You’ll be in the middle of the action when you live on College Hill.

In the Neighborhood

EastPointe Plaza: The plaza is a buzzing indoor/outdoor center of activity that features a food court, convenience store, and workout facility.

College Hill Computer Lab: This serves as the main center for computer access in the College Hill neighborhood. The lab houses both Macs and PCs.

Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium: Dowdy-Ficklen is the site of Pirate football action. Spend Saturdays in the fall cheering for the Pirates as they take on their American Athletic Conference foes, as well as teams from the ACC, SEC, and other conferences.

Minges Coliseum: The Pirates play basketball on the floor of Williams Arena, located inside Minges Coliseum. Join with fellow Minges Maniacs to help East Carolina score another victory.

Clark-LeClair Stadium: Root for the home team in Clark-LeClair Stadium, the state-of-the-art facility for Pirates baseball.

Murphy Center: The Murphy Center houses ECU’s strength and conditioning center, along with a banquet hall and memorabilia from the Pirates athletics program.

Central Neighborhood

Central neighborhood is at the heart of ECU’s academic environment.

Its four residence halls are surrounded by classroom buildings, lecture halls, Joyner Library, Wright Auditorium, and Messick Theatre. Residents enjoy central campus for its collegiate feel and quiet places to study. You’ll have convenient access to the buildings that you’ll visit frequently during your time at East Carolina.

You’ll also find it easy to get involved in campus life when you live in Central neighborhood. Movies, outdoor events, and an array of dining options are right at your fingertips, and when it’s time to relax, you can lounge on Central neighborhood’s sprawling “back yard”—the Mall. Other close-by amenities like live theatre performances will enrich your social and cultural experience on campus, as well as your academic career.

In the Neighborhood

J. Y. Joyner Library: Joyner is East Carolina’s main library on campus. The largest library in the state east of Raleigh, it has more than three million holdings. The library also is home to the Pirate Tutoring Center.

Dowdy Student Stores: Located in the Wright Building, the student store is your one-stop spot for all your textbook, school supply, ECU apparel, and computer needs.

Wright Auditorium: A historic landmark on campus, Wright Auditorium hosts symphonies, plays, concerts, and dance performances throughout the year.

Financial Aid and Cashier’s Offices: The Financial Aid Office oversees all federal Title IV aid for students enrolled at ECU. Staff members also provide individual guidance to students and their parents. The Financial Aid Office is located in the Old Cafeteria Complex near the library and the student center. This building also is home to the Cashier’s Office and the ECU 1 Card Office.

Student Health Service: The East Carolina Student Health Service is the primary health-care facility on Main Campus. Its medical staff provides quality health care to enrolled students and ECU employees through a comprehensive list of services. It’s located in the Student Health Center along the Mall.

Academic Support in All of Our Residence Halls
Living on campus connects you to a range of programs and activities to support your academic success. Campus Living offers programs in every residence hall that focus on both personal and academic growth. Programs are often offered as students need them, such as programs on study skills and test taking. Students living in the residence halls often organize study groups, and most halls have study spaces or areas in the hall lobby. Our residence halls are conveniently located within walking distance to most classes and academic buildings. Also, living on campus keeps you close to all the academic resources ECU has to offer, such as Joyner Library and the Pirate Tutoring Center.

Jarvis Hall Leadership Program
The Jarvis Hall Leadership program is a Living Learning Community that is designed to improve your leadership abilities and strengthen your interpersonal skills by offering you seminars that cover ethics and values, decision making, and leadership theory. You’ll participate in activities including ECU’s ropes course, and freshmen in the program take part in the Emerging Leaders portion that helps them develop their personal leadership style. Interested students may apply for a space in the program by requesting an application from Campus Living. Incoming students must have a high school GPA of at least 3.0 and must provide an essay and two letters of recommendation. For more information, visit www.ecu.edu/campusliving.

West End Neighborhood

The appeal of West End neighborhood is in its proximity to ECU’s social scene.

Close to the Student Recreation Center, Mendenhall Student Center, and the Brickyard, the West End neighborhood is always buzzing with activity. You can get involved in just about any campus event when you live here. Students often meet and hang out at the student center, where attractions like Hendrix Theatre, a bowling alley, pool hall, study lounge, food court, convenience store, and coffee bar make the possibilities endless. If you just feel like relaxing, you can hang out in front of a big-screen TV or lounge in one of the comfortable chairs.

The Student Recreation Center hosts a variety of athletic activities and competitions for residents, with quieter activities like yoga available as well. West End neighborhood is also home to the state-of-the-art West End Dining Hall, for convenient dining close to home. You’ll find a little bit of everything here, including the Central/West End Neighborhood Service Office.

In the Neighborhood

Mendenhall Student Center: Mendenhall is the student activity center on campus. Here you can shoot a game of pool, catch a movie, go bowling, grab a snack or a cup of coffee, study, or enjoy your favorite TV show. www.ecu.edu/cs-studentaffairs/studentlife/mscrecreations

Student Recreation Center: One of the largest and finest facilities of its kind on the East Coast, the Student Recreation Center has an indoor and an outdoor pool, an indoor climbing wall, multipurpose courts, an indoor track, a weight room, a juice bar, and more. www.ecu.edu/crw

Hendrix Theatre: Located inside Mendenhall Student Center, Hendrix Theatre shows newly released films every weekend as well as occasional sneak previews and hosts other campus events throughout the year. www.ecu.edu/sab/films.cfm

To provide an enriching, life-changing, and safe college experience, ECU requires all freshmen to live on campus. We assign new students according to the date we receive the completed Campus Living Contract and the advance room fee. As our residence halls fill up quickly, the sooner we hear from you, the better. When completing the Campus Living Contract, you’ll need to consider the following choices:

ROOMMATE REQUEST
If you have someone you want to room with, we will make every effort to place you together provided there are enough empty rooms available. Students who don’t request a specific roommate are assigned one based on gender and smoking preference. We start assigning rooms and roommates in May. If we receive your completed contract, application fee, and advance room deposit by April 15, you will be notified of your assignment and your roommate in July. We will be unable to honor roommate requests after May 1, but housing assignments are largely based on the order of the student’s housing contract date. Applying before April 15 is preferred.

GENERAL REQUESTS

Single-sex living: Greene is an all-female residence hall. If you would prefer to live in this hall, answer “Yes” to the question, “Do you prefer a single-gender residence hall?” on the Campus Living Contract.

Coed living: In coed residence halls, men and women live in either separate wings of the same floor or on alternate floors of the same building. If you would prefer to live in one of these halls, answer “No” to the question, “Do you prefer a single-gender residence hall?” on the Campus Living Contract.

Tobacco-free living: The use of tobacco products is prohibited in all residence halls. All residence halls are nonsmoking. Smoking is not allowed within 25 feet of residence hall steps, entry areas, porches, breezeways, courtyards, and windows. If you use tobacco products, please answer “Yes” to the question, “Do you use tobacco products?” on the Campus Living Contract. Campus Living uses this information in roommate matching.

NEIGHBORHOOD
Now that you’ve decided on living arrangements, tell us where you prefer to live. Rank the campus neighborhoods—College Hill, Central, and West End—in order of preference.

SPECIAL ACCOMMODATIONS
All medical requirements or needs will be considered before roommate selection and neighborhood preference. Special accommodations are available based on medical need or physical disability. Campus Living cannot guarantee the availability of special accommodations after May 1.

For updated 2015-2016 cost information, please visit us online at www.ecu.edu/campusliving.

All rates are subject to approval by the ECU Board of Trustees.

* Upper division halls. First-year students will not be assigned to these halls.

 Jones Hall, Cotten Hall, and White Hall are only accessible on the first floor.

† College Hill Suites has a limited number of two-person suites for an additional $400 per year. Some halls have specialty rooms that are at higher rate. Students as signed these spaces will be notified of the rate. Campus Living offers a limited number of singles at the additional rate of $1,200 or $1,600 per year, depending on room size. Double rooms may be offered as a single (as available) in all residence halls if space permits once the academic year begins.
Dining Choices

RESIDENTIAL PURPLE MEAL PLANS
Essentially, a meal plan is a pre-paid account for your on-campus meals. At the start of the semester, you pay one price to cover all of your meals that you will be eating in the dining halls and the retail locations on campus. Your meal plan activity is tracked on your student ID card (1 Card).

HOW DO I USE A MEAL PLAN?
Pirate Meals: Each meal plan, except the Purple Flex Plan, comes with a predetermined amount of food court Pirate Meals (Purple 15, 40, 70); the number represents the amount of Pirate Meals available per semester. Food court locations include: Destination 360, the Wright Place, the Galley, the Wedge, and the Croatan. Each of these locations house several national and proprietary brands such as Subway®, Chick-fil-A®, Panda Express®, Chili’s Too®, and much more. When you visit one of these locations, several Pirate Meal options will be available for you to choose from per food court outlet. These meals will be deducted from your meal plan over the course of the semester as you use them. Once these meals are gone in a semester, you will have to use Purple Bucks, cash, or a credit card to pay for food items in the food court locations.

Purple Bucks: Each meal plan includes a defined amount of Purple Bucks. Purple Bucks can be used like cash and dollar-for-dollar exchange. Purple Bucks can be used at all dining locations on campus. Students running low on Purple Bucks can add more Purple Bucks at any time in $25 increments. When using Purple Bucks, you automatically save an additional 10 percent on meal purchases at the dining halls.

Guest Meals: Each Purple meal plan comes with five guest meals. Guest meals can only be used in Todd or West End Dining Halls. These meals can be used for friends, family, or faculty you would like to treat to a meal.

WHAT IS CONTINUOUS AND ALL-ACCESS DINING?
Continuous dining means we are open non-stop from morning to night at both Todd and West End Dining Halls. Come in for a full meal or just to grab a beverage or snack. All-access dining allows the meal plan member to come into the dining halls multiple times throughout the day as often as you like, giving you all access to a variety of foods during our set hours of operation.
