Register for New Student Orientation

The university provides new admitted freshmen, entering in the fall 2015 term, with the opportunity to attend a two-day, on-campus orientation this summer. The program* is designed to:

- academically prepare new freshmen for the fall semester through placement testing, meeting with an advisor, and registering for fall classes;
- make students aware of important academic rules and regulations;
- introduce students to student life at ECU and involvement opportunities;
- provide a taste of what college life is like;
- help students learn their way around campus;
- provide students the opportunity to meet fellow Pirates!

* A fee is required to participate in orientation.

STEP ONE
Visit the orientation web page at www.ecu.edu/orientation and follow the instructions to register for one of the following two-day orientation sessions:

Session 1:  June 15–16
Session 2:  June 17–18
Session 3:  June 22–23
Session 4:  June 24–25
Session 5:  June 29–30
Session 6:  July 1–2
Session 7:  July 6–7
Session 8:  July 8–9
Session 9:  July 13–14
Session 10: July 15–16

STEP TWO
Join the official “East Carolina University Class of 2019” Facebook group, and start getting to know your fellow classmates now. Go to www.facebook.com/East.Carolina.University.Amissions for more information.
How Do I Make the Most of My College Experience?

Above all else, you are coming to East Carolina to learn. You will have plenty of opportunities to grow academically here.

And thanks to dozens of programs, organizations, offices, and services offered across campus, you can grow in many other ways, too—intellectually, socially, ethically, spiritually, and personally.

Here’s a look at many of the ways you can enhance your mind, your skills, your social circle, and your sense of wellness and belonging. Here’s a look at how you can have a complete college experience. Here’s a look at why East Carolina is the right place for you.

CAMP P.I.R.A.T.E.S.
This three-day, two-night extended orientation camp connects students to ECU’s history and traditions while they develop friendships in a fun environment. At camp, students participate in activities designed to help them learn about resources on campus, find out how to get engaged on campus, discover leadership opportunities, meet new friends, and learn about how to transition successfully from high school to ECU.

www.ecu.edu/camppirates

NEW STUDENT WELCOME AND CONVOCATION
Join other new Pirates as university officials welcome you to East Carolina University. This event is designed to introduce you to the academic and social communities of the university. This celebration of your entry into higher education is followed by a pep rally led by the Pirate athletic director, coaches, cheerleaders, dance team, and pep band.

www.ecu.edu/convocation
PLUNGE INTO PURPLE
During the first several weeks of fall and spring semesters, there is a series of programs to welcome you to campus called Plunge Into Purple. These programs and events will help you meet your fellow students and begin college in a fun and informative way. During this time, you’ll discover more about ECU and the keys to being successful in your first year.
www.ecu.edu/plungeintopurple

FIRST YEAR SEMINAR
During the fall semester, you can take a course called First Year Seminar (COAD 1000) that is designed to help you make a smooth transition to college, both academically and interpersonally. This 1-credit-hour elective course will help you in many ways, including the following:
• Make strong connections with your peers, faculty, and staff.
• Become familiar with campus resources.
• Strengthen your study skills.
• Jump-start your academic and career planning.

PIRATE ATHLETICS
Cheer the football team on to victory in Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium with fellow Pirate fans. Join the Minges Maniacs as the Pirates take to the hardwood against American Athletic Conference basketball foes in Williams Arena at Minges Coliseum. Take in a baseball game in the state-of-the-art Clark-LeClair Stadium. As an ECU student, you can get great seats at big-time college sporting events throughout the academic year.

East Carolina is an NCAA member in all of its 19 intercollegiate sports and is a member of the American Athletic Conference. You’ll see the Pirates in exciting matchups against conference rivals, as well as regional and national opponents. Show your support for all ECU athletics by joining the Student Pirate Club.

Find out more online at www.ecupirates.com/.
CAMPUS RECREATION AND WELLNESS

Campus Recreation and Wellness supports and encourages balanced, healthy lifestyles for the diverse East Carolina community by providing leadership development through educational and recreational programs. The department is committed to providing exemplary student leadership experiences, enhancing individual potential, developing responsible citizenship, and fostering a lifelong commitment to learning skills associated with physical, social, emotional, and mental well-being.

Student Recreation Center: ECU’s Student Recreation Center is the health club on campus—convenient, accessible, and filled with activities to keep the mind, body, and spirit in prime condition. Special features include six sport courts; an indoor climbing wall; an outdoor pool with a lounging area; a 10,800-square-foot exercise area with weight machines; an indoor track; three multipurpose rooms; a wellness center; and racquetball courts. From outdoor adventure trips to group fitness classes, yoga to tai chi, water sports to lacrosse, and everything in between—students won’t be bored here.

North Recreational Complex: The North Recreational Complex, located on Highway 264 East (10 minutes from Main Campus), features eight multipurpose activity fields. The fields can be sized to accommodate soccer, flag football, lacrosse, ultimate Frisbee, and rugby. A field house overlooks the fields providing equipment storage and a covered seating area with restrooms. Parking is adjacent to the field house. The property also includes six acres of water for fishing and boating, a sunbathing sandy beach area, outdoor fitness equipment, a half-mile trail around the lake, two sand volleyball courts, cornhole, an 18-hole disc golf course, and walking and running trails. The Odyssey High Challenge Course at the NRC is approximately 40 feet tall and has eight distinct high elements. The main course is 120 feet long with two 300-foot zip lines.

www.ecu.edu/cs-studentaffairs/crw/facilities/north_complex/index.cfm

Intramurals, Club Sports, Adventure, Fitness: Campus Recreation and Wellness also offers a low-ropes challenge course and a 50-foot alpine tower, as well as the Blount Recreational Sports Complex with 10 flag football and soccer fields and five softball fields. An extensive offering of more than 40 club sports and approximately 30 intramural sports activities provide plenty of opportunities for those who want some competition. There are also programs for individuals with disabilities, adventure trips, workshops, and equipment rental, as well as a diverse array of instructional classes, special events, and programs for youth and family.

Student Profile:

Madison Keesling
Cary, North Carolina

Madison Keesling, from Cary, North Carolina, is an enthusiastic student who demonstrates her hard work through academics and athletics. She is devoted to her studies as a double major in exercise physiology and nutrition science while minoring in sport studies. Keesling has stayed active in the campus community as a varsity cheerleader, physics tutor at the Pirate Tutoring Center, member of Phi Kappa Phi National Honor Society, and historian of Golden Key International Honor Society. In the local community, Keesling is an assistant head cheerleading coach for Hope Middle School and also coaches students on sports safety with the East Carolina Injury Prevention Program.

Keesling’s dedication in and out of the classroom has been awarded through multiple scholarships. She says, “These scholarships have been a great honor and vital in allowing me to complete my dual undergraduate degree.”

On her journey to a future career in sports nutrition, she found developing close relationships with her professors and advisors has been beneficial to her success.

Keesling reaches out to prospective students and says, “I believe that any student who has the chance to attend ECU should embrace it and become as involved as possible!”
Campus Wellness: As a component of Campus Recreation and Wellness, Campus Wellness works to create and sustain a culture of wellness at East Carolina University in which students can achieve their personal and academic goals. We value inclusion, respect, and equality for the ECU community.

GETTING INVOLVED

Rush a fraternity. Write articles for The East Carolinian. Run for the Student Government Association. Go kayaking in the shadow of the Cape Lookout Lighthouse. Whatever your extracurricular interests might be, East Carolina has the right fit. Here’s a look.

Center for Student Leadership and Engagement: In an effort to provide a central location for student leadership experiences and opportunities, ECU established the Center for Student Leadership and Engagement (CSLE). Located in Mendenhall Student Center, the center focuses on fostering leadership practices and the engagement experiences that transform and empower students.

www.ecu.edu/studentleadership/

Clubs, Organizations, Honor Societies: East Carolina is home to numerous groups designed to enhance your experience as a college student. Programs focus on a wide range of interests including but not limited to academic, cultural, education, Greek Life, honors, leadership, medical and health science, recreational, religious and spiritual, service, student government, and visual and performing arts. For details on individual organizations on campus, visit www.ecu.edu/sao/studentorganizations, or call 252-737-1808.

Greek Life: The Office of Greek Life promotes diversity, lifelong learning, friendship, and service. East Carolina has more than 39 social fraternities and sororities on campus. The office promotes sorority and fraternity membership that helps develop leadership, networking, decision-making, career, and life skills.

www.ecu.edu/greeklife

Student Activities Board: The Student Activities Board offers an opportunity for students, staff, and faculty to take advantage of one of the most creative, energetic, and entertaining entities on campus. The Student Activities Board is a student-driven organization committed to fostering student development and leadership through the coordination of educational, engaging, and entertaining programs for the entire Pirate Nation.

www.ecu.edu/sab

Student Media: ECU Student Media is made up of a student newspaper, radio station, yearbook, arts and literary digest, magazines, and an advertising and marketing agency. Student Media is a community-centered source of news and entertainment discussing issues of public importance, while at the same time providing ECU students with hands-on experience in leadership, collaboration, communication, and management.

www.ecu.edu/studentmedia

Student Activities and Organizations: The Student Activities and Organizations Office is committed to providing a broad range of cocurricular, educational, developmental, and social experiences by providing quality programs and support.
SUPPORT SERVICES

East Carolina is dedicated to making sure your college experience is a rewarding, healthy, and formative one. At times, you might feel the need for a little extra help when special circumstances come up. Our support services on campus are designed to give that extra help.

Career Center: The Career Center provides services and programs to equip ECU students and alumni with the skills and tools needed to enter and succeed in the marketplace. The Career Center operates on a liaison model, providing a specific professional to work with students, faculty, and advisors of each college. Our career readiness tools include career assessments such as the MBTI, professional résumés and cover letters, interview skills development and practice, appropriate business attire, and etiquette training. Additionally, the Career Center provides the necessary coaching in job search strategies, networking, and salary negotiations, and helps students connect with hiring employers through career fairs, on-campus employer information sessions, CareerSHIFT, and ECU CareerNet, an interactive employer database featuring job and internship postings.

Center for Counseling and Student Development: The Center for Counseling and Student Development’s goal is to enhance personal growth through developmental and therapeutic programs and services that help students develop skills, acquire knowledge, and understand themselves and others. The center offers free, confidential services that focus on the personal, academic, and career concerns that many college students face.

www.ecu.edu/counselingcenter

Dining Services: Dining Services provides a wide variety of menu options with quality food and services while also fostering a global community. Dining Services strives to tailor programs, services, and dining venues to meet the Volunteer and Service-Learning Center: The Volunteer and Service-Learning Center (VSLC) seeks to foster an environment where individuals learn about themselves and their community, take action through service, and advocate for lasting social change. We encourage you to learn about the variety of experiential learning opportunities we offer by visiting us in the Old Cafeteria Complex or online at www.ecu.edu/vslc.

designed to increase communication with parents and to actively involve them in the life of the university. We help coordinate events such as Fall Family Weekend (ecu.edu/familyweekend) and Spring Family Weekend (ecu.edu/springfing) in order to engage families and connect them to the campus, and to each other. Parents and families play an important role at ECU, and the Office of Parent and Family Programs seeks to communicate information about the university that will enhance their ability to contribute to the success of their student.

www.ecu.edu/parents

Disability Support Services: Disability Support Services arranges accommodations that allow access to programs, services, facilities, and activities of East Carolina. The department enhances disability awareness among students, staff, faculty, and visitors while creating an inclusive and barrier-free environment.

www.ecu.edu/disabilityservices

Dean of Students Office: The Dean of Students Office is the campus resource for addressing and responding to student issues and concerns. By connecting with other university departments and offices, the office supports the needs of students and student communities and identifies resources to respond to those needs.

www.ecu.edu/dos/

Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) Resource Office: Founded in 2011, the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) Resource Office serves the entire campus community through educational programming and events, Safe Zone training, volunteer opportunities, and a lending library. Located in the Brewster Building, Room B-103, the office is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and is popular gathering place for all students.

www.ecu.edu/cs-cas/lgbt

Office of Parent and Family Programs: Intended to strengthen the university’s relationship with our students’ families, the Office of Parent and Family Programs is designed to increase communication with parents and to actively involve them in the life of the university. We help coordinate events such as Fall Family Weekend (ecu.edu/familyweekend) and Spring Family Weekend (ecu.edu/springfing) in order to engage families and connect them to the campus, and to each other. Parents and families play an important role at ECU, and the Office of Parent and Family Programs seeks to communicate information about the university that will enhance their ability to contribute to the success of their student.

Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities: The Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities promotes personal and academic integrity and a safe learning environment. We empower students to make ethical decisions and become personally responsible citizens. The office administers the Student Code of Conduct (www.ecu.edu/PRR/11/30/01) and the Academic Integrity Policy (www.ecu.edu/cs-acad/fsinline/customcf/currentfacultymanual/part6.pdf). www.ecu.edu/osrr

Office of Student Transitions: The Office of Student Transitions collaborates with university constituents to create an environment that contributes to the success of all students; provides services that positively impact student persistence; and serves as a research and resource repository to advance learning of student development theories and best practices for first-year experiences. The Office of Student Transitions includes programming and services for first-year experience, transfer students, and nontraditional students including student veterans and first generation.

www.ecu.edu/ostfyp
Student Health Service: East Carolina’s Student Health Service is a primary health-care facility conveniently located on Main Campus that serves enrolled students. www.ecu.edu/studenthealth

OFF-CAMPUS SAFETY, ECU POLICE, OFF-CAMPUS STUDENT SERVICES, AND TRANSPORTATION
One of East Carolina’s most important priorities is making sure you and your classmates live and learn in a safe and healthy environment (plus, we need to get you to and from where you need to be). The following programs and organizations are dedicated to that mission.

Campus Safety: The campus safety division, housed in the ECU Police Department, promotes a safe environment at East Carolina through awareness and educational programs. ECU uses state-of-the-art security and safety technology to enhance its efforts. www.ecu.edu/police/programs.cfm

ECU CARES: ECU CARES is a campuswide resource where students, faculty, and staff can report concerning behavior on campus. Call 252-737-5555 or go online at www.ecu.edu/ecucares.

ECU Police Department: The nationally accredited ECU Police Department assists students, faculty, and staff in maintaining a safe campus environment and enhancing the quality of life at East Carolina. www.ecu.edu/police

ECU Transit: Our comprehensive transportation system offers a wide variety of travel options and operates to serve the ECU community with bus stop locations on and off campus. With a diverse fleet of vehicles, ECU Transit provides more than 2.5 million rides annually. www.ecu.edu/transit

Off-Campus Student Services: Off-Campus Student Services provides students and parents the opportunity to find safe and affordable off-campus housing. We accomplish this by encouraging open communication and delivering educational programs and services in order to empower students to become good citizens, keeping them connected to the university. www.ecu.edu/ocss

Student Legal Services: Student Legal Services is an advisory service that is available to all fee-paying students. They advise on common areas of law that concern students. Additionally, SLS runs educational programs to assist in resolving disputes. www.ecu.edu/legalservices

Student Profile:
Lucretia Smith
Columbus, Ohio

As a child, Lucretia Smith enjoyed a favorite game— playing school with her two sisters, and she was always the teacher. “Teaching is something I’ve always wanted to do,” says Smith.

She’s been preparing herself ever since second grade, when she started working with children with disabilities. “I really enjoyed helping the special education teachers,” she says. “By spending time with those students, it taught me that not all people are alike. I treasured helping those who were not able to do the same things that I could.”

Since then, Smith has been an active volunteer and dedicates her spare time to helping both children and adults with disabilities.

Smith is completing her senior internship in a fifth-grade classroom where she spends more than eight hours a day teaching English, language arts, math, science, and social studies.

After graduation, Smith plans to start teaching right away. With already two elementary school teaching job offers and more interviews lined up, she is anxious to teach in her own classroom. “I’m ready to spread my wings,” she says.

- Campus Maps 16
- Frequently Called Numbers 17
A Glossary of Terms

Here are a few terms you’ll read about and hear about on campus. In one way or another, they all have to do with the sights, sounds, and traditions here at ECU.

1 Card: The ECU 1 Card is your official identification card as an East Carolina student. It also allows you access to campus facilities, activities, and events, and it serves as your meal card and bus pass. The 1 Card Office is located in the Old Cafeteria Complex.

Barefoot on the Mall: Barefoot is a springtime tradition on campus that celebrates the end of the school year.

Blue Lights: About 100 emergency phones are located throughout campus on poles topped with blue lights and at the entrances of all the residence halls. When activated, the phones ring directly into the ECU Police Department, where the exact location of the phone is displayed.

Campus 31: Campus 31 is Student Affairs’ video production house that broadcasts videos on various media outlets including YouTube, Vimeo, and its very own closed-circuit television Channel 31 that can be watched anywhere on campus with original student productions, campus events, and more.
Pirate Palooza: Pirate Palooza is East Carolina’s back-to-school outdoor festival. It’s an evening of big fun, with plenty of music, food, and games on hand to welcome students to campus in the fall.

Polar Bear Plunge: The Polar Bear Plunge is a long-running campus tradition where ECU students jump into the icy waters of the Student Rec Center outside pool in January. The event started in 1997 and has averaged more than 1,000 student jumpers in each of the last four years.

Purple and Gold Bucks: Purple Bucks (for Purple Meal Plan students) and Gold Bucks (for Gold Meal Plan commuter students) are declining-balance account programs that supplement meal choices for purchases at any campus convenience store or dining location. Usage options with Gold Bucks plans for athletics events also are available. Visit www.ecu.edu/dining for more information.

Sonic Plaza: Anchoring the space between the east and west wings of Joyner Library, the Sonic Plaza combines campus architecture and public art. The plaza, installed during the library’s massive renovation in the 1990s, includes four elements. The Ground Cloud is a 12-foot circle of mist dancing upward from the sidewalk. The Media Glockenspiel marks the passing of time in the form of a multimedia clock tower featuring video monitors, sound, and displays throughout the day. The Percussive Water Wall has water jets that spray variously changing patterns of mist. The Sonic Gates welcome passers-by when movement triggers sounds coming from within the library’s original columns.

SRAPAS: The S. Rudolph Alexander Performing Arts Series, or SRAPAS, brings big-name entertainment to campus each year. Students can buy tickets for events at great reduced rates.

Cupola: The Cupola, located on the Mall, is a reproduction of the architectural structure that topped Old Austin Hall, East Carolina’s first administration building. Old Austin stood where the Jenkins Fine Arts Center is today.

“First Down—Pirates”: Go to a football game in the fall at Dowdy-Ficklen Stadium, and you’ll take part in shouting this cheer along with 50,000 fellow Pirate fans as the team drives down the field on the way to the end zone.

Health Sciences Campus: One of ECU’s three campuses, the Health Sciences Campus is home to the Brody School of Medicine, along with our nursing, allied health, dental medicine, and other health-care programs and facilities.

Homecoming: ECU Homecoming is a long-standing tradition with a fall festival experience celebrated during the football season. Homecoming has evolved into a week’s worth of events and programs, including the Homecoming parade with float contests, the Cannon Ball Dance, a Homecoming concert, a football game (of course), and much more. We welcome our ECU alumni back to campus with open arms and pride for our Pirate Nation. www.ecu.edu/homecoming

Main Campus: One of East Carolina’s three campuses, Main Campus is home to the majority of ECU’s academic, administrative, and support buildings, as well as all the residence halls. This is where you’ll spend most of your time as an undergraduate student.

Mall: The Mall runs through the heart of Main Campus. This grassy, tree-dotted spot—the “back yard” of the Central neighborhood residence halls—is a great place to read a book, throw a Frisbee, and hang out with friends.

Minges Maniacs: They say the home crowd at basketball games is the “sixth man,” and the Minges Maniacs prove the truth in that statement. These student Pirate fans sport their purple and gold proudly as they cheer on the men’s and women’s basketball teams to victory in Williams Arena at Minges Coliseum.

Sonic Plaza:: An anchoring the space between the east and west wings of Joyner Library, the Sonic Plaza combines campus architecture and public art. The plaza, installed during the library’s massive renovation in the 1990s, includes four elements. The Ground Cloud is a 12-foot circle of mist dancing upward from the sidewalk. The Media Glockenspiel marks the passing of time in the form of a multimedia clock tower featuring video monitors, sound, and displays throughout the day. The Percussive Water Wall has water jets that spray variously changing patterns of mist. The Sonic Gates welcome passers-by when movement triggers sounds coming from within the library’s original columns.

SRAPAS: The S. Rudolph Alexander Performing Arts Series, or SRAPAS, brings big-name entertainment to campus each year. Students can buy tickets for events at great reduced rates.
Student Pirate Club: If you’re interested in ECU’s big-time athletics program, the Student Pirate Club is for you. One of the largest student programs at East Carolina, the Student Pirate Club supports and promotes all of ECU’s athletics. Members get an ECU T-shirt, priority game ticket options, the chance to meet Pirate players and coaches, and much more. Visit the website at www.studentpirateclub.com.

Trustees Fountain: The Trustees Fountain at Wright Circle shares the same iconic spot on campus that has served as a focal point of welcome to the East Carolina community for decades. Dedicated in 2009, the fountain pays tribute to the men and women who have served East Carolina as trustees. The campus’s original fountain, built in 1932, occupied the same area.

Victory Bell: Located on Main Campus near Christenbury Memorial Gymnasium, the 382-pound Victory Bell was given to East Carolina in 1932 by the US Navy. The bell was cast in 1855 in Philadelphia and was placed aboard the naval ship USS Broome, which escorted convoys across the Atlantic Ocean during World War II. Once on campus, the bell was traditionally rung to mark athletic victories. It stands in honor of the East Carolina men and women who have served in the military.

West Research Campus: One of East Carolina’s three campuses, the West Research Campus is home to several programs run by ECU and its partners, including the Queen Anne’s Revenge Shipwreck Conservation Laboratory and the North Carolina Agromedicine Institute.

Student Profile:

London Paulson

Wilmington, North Carolina

London Paulson, from Wilmington, North Carolina, aspires to graduate with a public health studies degree. Paulson chose this major because it was patient-oriented. His commitment to his dream has motivated him to become involved with numerous organizations on campus. Being active in organizations at ECU has given him the confidence to move forward toward his career, ensuring quality care to his future patients.

Paulson serves as an ECU Ambassador as well as a member of the Pre-Dental Honors Society. “ECU has truly pushed me to commit myself to leadership, scholarship, and service,” he says. He was also nominated as the student body director of academic affairs for the Student Government Association. He accredits his achievements to East Carolina University and firmly believes that “ECU is committed to research and service, which allows its students to grow into their full academic potential,” he says.

Paulson always wanted to explore the world; when he accepted the Rivers Scholarship, he was provided with the opportunity to study abroad in Switzerland. He says, “It helped my family financially and helped me fulfill my aspiration to see the world.”
