

DIGITAL COLLECTIONS LIBRARIAN - 942036
EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY
JOYNER LIBRARY

J.Y. Joyner Library at East Carolina University (ECU) seeks a knowledgeable, creative, and service-oriented colleague for the position of Digital Collections Librarian. Reporting to the Assistant Director of Library Technology, the Digital Collections Librarian will work closely and collaboratively with Special Collections, Library Technology, Collections and Technical Services, and others to ensure that Joyner Library's digital collections are an integral part of the library's collections and services. The individual in this position will serve as a member of a team of librarians and staff at ECU's Joyner and Laupus Libraries committed to effectively managing the libraries' growing digital collections.

The Digital Collections Librarian will take a lead role in the creation, maintenance, and stewardship of digital collections and repository systems, including the digitization of special collections and other library materials and the implementation and maintenance of discovery tools related to these initiatives. S/he will devise and revise operating procedures and workflows; improve access to digitized content through ongoing evaluation of the department's digital services; investigate relevant standards and best practices and maintain compliance with standards, including metadata standards; investigate, plan, and manage format conversions and migrations; plan, implement, and monitor external contracts providing digitization and other related services to Joyner; seek and/or manage grant funding for digital initiatives; develop an in-depth knowledge of new technology; seek collaboration opportunities with other libraries and institutions; and develop preservation and curation plans for digital content in repositories. S/he may participate in the creation of online exhibitions and presentations.

The Digital Collections Librarian will supervise three full-time programming and production staff, as well as student assistants and grant-related positions, and train staff and others in processes and procedures leading to high levels of productivity and quality.

Required Qualifications: ALA-accredited master's degree; two or more years experience with current digital library technologies, standards, and practices; demonstrated ability to plan, coordinate, and implement effective programs, complex projects, and services, ensuring that project objectives are met within time, budget, and quality targets; demonstrated ability to lead groups; excellent organizational skills and a demonstrated ability to handle complex analytical and detailed work; ability to work independently and collaboratively in a complex and rapidly changing environment; demonstrated commitment to addressing user needs; excellent oral and written communication skills and an ability to effectively interact with audiences of diverse technological backgrounds, especially for the purpose of describing complicated technical issues, standards, or procedures; and ability to achieve tenure through effective job performance, scholarly publication, and service activities.

Preferred Qualifications: Experience in managing digital projects; experience with a variety of metadata and markup standards, including Dublin Core, EAD, TEI, MARC, etc. and appropriate thesauri; experience in developing interfaces for online resources on the World Wide Web, including mark-up languages; experience administering grants; knowledge of database management principles and software; demonstrated experience with implementing and maintaining digital content management systems such as DSpace, Eprints, and Fedora; supervisory experience; participation in professional organizations; familiarity with applicable provisions of copyright law; additional advanced degree.

Finalists will make a presentation during the on-campus interview.

Rank, Salary and Benefits:

This is a twelve-month tenure track faculty position with a comprehensive fringe benefits package. Professional achievement, service, and research/creative activity are required for tenure and promotion. Rank and salary will be commensurate with candidate's experience and professional achievement. Minimum salary of $50,000.
