Professor Morehead,

I am an Alumni of almost 40 years of the great East Carolina University. I loved my time there and have continued to donate both money and time to the University. I was very distressed to hear about the renaming of Charles B. Aycock Resident Hall. Governor Aycock was a honorable proponent of Education and it is an honor to have his name on one of the leading Education University. So many people are just sick and tired of a small minority bullying their agenda. Please do not cave to this political correctness agenda. What is next? Changing the Jefferson Memorial? Washington Monument. You will create a nightmare scenario by caving to a few agitators.

Please have the courage to drop this. There are so many more important things to worry about and need our attention.

I love East Carolina and want to continue to respect it also.
