Attention: Male Students!

If you have been thinking about joining a student organization at East Carolina University that will offer fantastic social and development opportunities while at the same time prepare you for a successful life after college, then you've come to the right place.

Membership in a fraternity is challenging, rewarding, and fun - yet also offers an environment that promotes friendship, support and networking opportunities. These organizations are all different, with many options to choose from throughout the recruitment process.

Being a member of a fraternity means more than just wearing Greek letters, attending meetings, and going to mixers. Being in a fraternity is about making friendships that will last far beyond your college years while enhancing your personal development by committing to ideals of scholarship, leadership, and service. It is being respected for your individuality while being part of a brotherhood with individuals who share the same goals and values. Your brothers are there to support you, making your transition to college easy and fun.

Membership is a solemn commitment. Joining a fraternity is a lifelong dedication to the ideals and principles of Greek life. Greek men are successful in life because the values learned during the undergraduate years of affiliation continue to be put into action long after graduation.

Did you know that Greek individuals comprise only 2% of the population of the United States? However, this 2% is a very powerful group of individuals.

- Over 85% of the student leaders on some 800 campuses where Greek Life is present are involved in the Greek community.
- All but two U.S. Presidents have been fraternity men since 1825 when the first social fraternity was founded. Today, 76% of all U.S. Congressmen and Senators are Greek.
- Of the nations 50 largest corporations, 43 are led by fraternity men and sorority women.
- Greeks raise over $10 million for charity every year.
- A U.S. Government study shows that over 70% of all those who join a fraternity/ sorority graduate, while under 50% of all non-fraternity/sorority persons graduate.
- 850,000 hours are annually volunteered by Greeks across the country.
- Approximately 85% of the top executives of Fortune 500 companies belong to a fraternity or sorority.

Thank you and I look forward to seeing you at rush in the fall!

Regards,

Keith Tingley
Assistant Director of Greek Life

Greetings and Welcome!

It is my distinct pleasure to invite all male students to join the fraternity men of East Carolina University August 24-27, 2008, when we will be holding Rush Week. Rush Week will begin with a "welcome back" band party, co-sponsored by ECU Student Union, where you will have a chance to meet what will become your best friends for life. Every fraternity on campus will be available for you to ask questions and socialize with. The band party will be followed by a week of rush events being held by each fraternity in its own individual location. You will have a chance to meet every fraternity again and should begin choosing which ones you relate to the most. I highly encourage you to meet as many different fraternities as possible to see which one best suits your personality and your goals. Each one has a unique character and spirit, so choose the organization that you feel a bond with. At the end of the week you will be issued a "bid", or a formal invitation to join, by one or more of the fraternities you have met with. You will then be formally "pledged", or initiated as a new member, to that organization. It is a fairly simple process that may seem intimidating or uninviting, but I can assure you of the fact that you will be welcome with open arms by the fraternity brothers of this university. Once you are a member, you will come to know the pride and respect that we Greeks carry for ourselves and each other. It is a life-changing decision that I have never once heard someone speak of regrettably.

You are all being given a highly esteemed opportunity to join the ranks of some of the most influential leaders in the nation. Join us, and become the man you will be for the rest of your life!

I look forward to meeting you all in the coming year.

Fraternally,

M. Logan Johnson
President
Interfraternity Council

Brotherhood

When you associate with a fraternity you're not just meeting new friends or acquiring a place to live and party. It's much more than that. You're becoming a part of a brotherhood. Brotherhood is a unique, private bond based on intangible, invisible principles. And because of this bond, you'll be making friends which last not a semester, or four years, but for a lifetime. Being part of a fraternity is incomparable to anything else; it's brotherhood, pure and simple. However, to know of its existence is one thing, to experience the brotherhood of fraternity membership is another. It is a oneness, which transcends all cultural, economic, and ideological differences and overlooks petty disagreements and selfishness. Brotherhood is the essence of Greek Life...come and be a part of that life.

social life

A big part of college life is having fun. Parties, sports, games, and "hanging around" help make each day, week, month, semester, and year not only enduring but enjoyable. Greek life offers opportunity for this essential part of college life. Parties offer an inexpensive but exciting means of meeting fellow students without the worry of transportation. Intramurals give Greeks a chance to compete outside of the classroom as well as give you the chance to get to know your brothers in a different light. Going to lunch with your brothers, watching a movie at the house, or even just sitting around playing a game of cards helps break the monotony of the classroom grind and strengthens your friendships.

Besides offering an opportunity to meet new people and do new things, fraternities also help you to develop the skills to be comfortable with doing such new things. Fraternities sponsor workshops and lectures, which range in subject matter from etiquette, to alcohol awareness, to the development of interpersonal skills. Fraternities want members who are mature, responsible men but also men who know how to enjoy themselves. You too could be one of these men.

what is rush?

Formal rush for men is a time for rushees and initiated members to get to know each other through a series of carefully planned "parties." After rush has been completed and bids have been extended, you will begin pledging/associating with the fraternity of your choice.

It is important to come to rush with an open mind and to give each chapter equal consideration. Be yourself! Rush is a mutual process, so remember as you evaluate each chapter, they will evaluate you. Do not let other's opinions make the decisions for you, but go with your feelings, for the decision will affect the rest of your life.

You may wonder what qualities Greek organizations look for in an individual. Personality and interest are important, but so are academics. They are the main reason you are attending college. Always be sure to ask questions. If you have any questions pertaining to rush, financial matters, or social activities, ask someone or call us. We would be glad to clear up any confusion you may have. Another important point to consider is finances. Careful consideration should be given to your financial situation before making any obligations. Even though a rushee is not obligated to pledge/associate at the end of rush, we ask you to look carefully at Greek life at ECU. It is a way for you to meet the Greeks and to find out about the opportunities we have to offer. Like it . . .we love it! GO GREEK!!!

Beta Theta Pi was founded in 1839 at Miami University of Ohio and in 1982 at ECU. For over 150 years, Beta has offered men a fraternity experience unique from any other. Through the Men of Principle initiative, the fraternity has set high standards that it continues to exceed. At East Carolina, the brothers of the Epsilon Alpha Chapter organize philanthropic and community service events, participate in numerous social get-togethers (socials, tailgates, cook-outs), and place high emphasis on academic achievement. Our members actively participate in the Student Government Association, the Resident Hall Association, and the North Carolina Teaching Fellows Program. If you are looking for an enhanced college experience, go Greek, but if you are looking for more, GO BETA!
