In looking at the catalog I noticed that the course has the GE:FA attribute. I think it would be best to remove this designation." (see ARTH 3975 folder)
5. Request for Domestic Diversity credit for MGMT 3362, Organizational Behavior. This course is MGMT 4242, Organizational Behavior, moved to the 3000 level. College of Business Director of Undergraduate Programs Kevin Williams states that "The College of Business Department of Management is seeking a course number and level change to MGMT 4242 – Organizational Behavior. The course carries Domestic Diversity credit. The proposed course number will be MGMT 3362 – Organizational Behavior. We are proposing this change to relax progression through the concentration in our BSBA in Management. Currently, students must meet all declaration requirements and be a declared BSBA-Management major before taking MGMT4242. To be more in line with other BSBA majors, students would be allowed to complete the junior level course prior to officially declaring the major which will relax progression through the remaining concentration courses. Students will have more of an opportunity to spread remaining concentration courses over a higher number of remaining semesters easing workload in junior and senior years. All course content and prerequisites will remain the same – no other changes." (see MGMT 4242 folder)
6. Humanities Syllabi Review Response data (see folder).
7. Continuing discussion of SSOI (see folder)
8. Request from the College of Fine Arts and Communications to revise the Fina Arts general education student learning outcomes (see folder).
