C. Richard Eakin, Chancellor Chancellor Eakin reported that the Board of Governors (BOG) met last Friday, and approved plans for new admission standards for the University of North Carolina, which will include a greater emphasis on preparation in the areas of foreign language and mathematics. The standards will not be in place for several years. A request of $3.7 million in extra money for enrollment increases has been requested by ECU. The BOG approved a plan to increase funding for the West End dining hall, which will be located on campus. The Chancellor discussed priorities for this summer. He suggested that faculty members contact members of the General Assembly with respect to capital funding needs, and approval of the last phase in doctoral funding. The Chancellor said that he might seek faculty assistance in these areas. The Chancellor announced that the Campaign for East Carolina Scholars has raised $11 million, with a target of $15 million. After the BOG teaching excellence winners were honored, ECU winner Karl Wunsch (Psychology) gave, according to Chancellor Eakin, an outstanding response on behalf of all of the winners. The Chancellor thanked Brenda Killingsworth for representing the ECU faculty as chair for the past two years, and expressed thanks to all faculty for a productive year.

D. Vice Chancellor's Report
Thomas Feldbush, Vice Chancellor for Research, discussed the Dare County Task Force on Higher Education and the Center for Coastal Studies on Roanoke Island. Money has been appropriated by General Administration. ECU will be the lead institution administering the Center. The Center plans include a building that will cost $10-15 million. The plan is for a budget to be submitted by October 1 of this year for approval.

E. Ernie Schwarz, Chair of the University Athletic Committee Professor Schwarz (Health and Human Performance) deferred to Darrell Bryant, Interim Assistant Athletic Director. Ms. Bryant stated that approximately 400 student athletes had performed over 1900 hours of voluntary community service during the 1999-2000 academic year. Ms. Bryant spoke of services provided to athletes, including a mandatory study hall for freshmen and incoming students, which included specific objectives in academic areas. She discussed program of academic monitoring through progress reports, and expressed appreciation for faculty who participated in the monitoring program. She stated that tutoring is available for most student athletes for most courses. Each sport has an academic counselor who handles advising and registration tasks. Each team prepares academic reports and a composite is assembled as well. For fall semester alone, the overall grade point average for student athletes was 2.82, with a 2.81 cumulative gpa as of the end of fall semester. The overall graduation rate is 58% for student athletes. The latest freshman cohort graduation percentage was 86%.

Ferrell (Faculty Assembly) expressed concern about the men's basketball program and a possible hostile environment that may exist within the program. Ms. Bryant stated that as an academic counselor, control over the situation was beyond her control, but that the academic counselor for men's basketball is working through this situation with affected students. Chancellor Eakin stated that each basketball player has been interviewed and that the matter is different than the way it has been portrayed in the Daily Reflector. The Athletic Director and Chancellor Eakin have met with the coach, and the Chancellor expressed complete confidence that the program will conduct itself in a proud manner. Allred (Psychology) stated that better damage control is now needed. She stated that there is a public perception that the University is covering the matter up, and that the University's response needs to be positive and proactive.

Tilley (History) asked how students gain access to the study benefits Ms. Bryant mentioned. She stated that it is handled differently depending upon the team, but that scholarship recipients must participate in the study programs. Nida (HESC) asked about the baseball schedule in relation to academic support. There are 58 games between February and May 13, with 21 games in April. He expressed concern that there may be too many games. Ms. Bryant stated that the University has no choice concerning conference games, and some control on non-conference games. She stated that the baseball coach is very concerned about the academic progress of the baseball team's players. Tabrizi (Mathematics) asked if there were any ongoing efforts to strengthen relations between the athletic department and other departments on campus, or more relations between athletes and other students within the academic context.
Ms. Bryant stated that time constraints on athletes necessitate their staying at athletic facilities to conduct much of their studying. Miller (Philosophy) asked about a student from women's basketball having to drop a class because of conflict with basketball practice schedule in the early portion of fall semester. Chancellor Eakin stated that the student in question had a 3.9 gpa in a triple major. Ferrell (Faculty Assembly) stated that the greatest problem with student athletes' academic performance is in skills, not in attitude, attendance or specific subject matter. Ms. Bryant stated that academic mentors do tutor in general skill areas such as reading and writing. Davis (Industry and Technology) stated that overall the current system works well for athletes.

Chancellor Eakin recognized Ernie Schwarz for his many years of service to ECU and wished him well in his retirement.

F. Bob Morrison, Faculty Assembly Delegate Professor Morrison (Chemistry) presented an overview of the Faculty Assembly meeting held on 7 April 2000, in Chapel Hill. A copy of the report is available in the Faculty Senate office. Highlights of Professor Morrison's presentation included: The themes of faculty communication with legislators and faculty involvement with shared governance were discussed. Austin Bunch is ECU's conduit for lobbying activity for ECU. As of 2004, the UNC system will require two years of foreign language and as of 2006, one additional year of math beyond algebra II. The capital facilities issue may be decided by referendum. A new web site, www.uncbuildings.org has been developed to disseminate information about capital funding needs. A fixed term faculty review committee has been established. Some suggestion has been made that fixed term appointments be limited to 7 years to comply with AAUP guidelines. General Administration has requested a 6% pay increase for faculty.
Discussion was also held about a faculty seat during Trustee meetings. What happens with phased retirement positions also was discussed.

Keith Howell of UNC-Greensboro was re-elected chair of Faculty Assembly; ECU Professors Morrison and Ferrell were elected as committee chairs. Anyone interested in discussing particular items with the Faculty Assembly Delegation are encouraged to contact the following University members: Brenda Killingsworth (Business), Bob Morrison (Chemistry), Henry Ferrell (History), Alan Rosenberg (Medicine), and Lou Everett (Nursing).

G. Brenda Killingsworth, SACS Self-Study Director Professor Killingsworth (Business) provided a handout to senators that summarized efforts to this point. She asked for input concerning committees that need to be represented in the SACS study that are not included. Information pertaining to the SACS self-study is on the SACS self-study web page at: www.ecu.edu/pir/sacs.

F. Teaching Effectiveness Committee
Rose Allen (Allied Health Sciences), Chair of the Committee, presented first the proposed policy statement regarding commercial exploitation of classroom materials. She spoke of the mission of Verisity.com and its solicitation of students on the ECU campus. Some professor's notes have appeared on the Versity website, but the information did not accurately reflect course or lecture content. Other universities have taken action against such companies. The University Attorney and the Dean of Student Life were consulted about this proposed policy statement. Friend (Industry and Technology) asked for clarification on copyright law in this area. Toi Carter (Assistant University Attorney) stated that copyright law might not protect something said orally, because it is not a fixed medium, such as something written or taped. Joyce (Physics) asked that the language in the statement be changed from "may represent" intellectual property to "are" intellectual property. The policy will take effect at the beginning of the next academic year. Stanley (Biology) stated that this information should be provided to students, and not merely placed in the faculty manual.
Faculty can include this information in course syllabi. Following discussion, the proposed policy statement regarding commercial exploitation of classroom materials was approved as amended. RESOLUTION #00-23 (Please refer to the list of resolutions at the end of this report for the full policy statement.)

Professor Allen then presented the recommendations on the Undergraduate Distance Education-Student Opinion of Instruction Survey. Joyce (Physics) asked if there were any guarantee that faculty will not interfere with the evaluation process, and whether it could be known if in this process, it could be known if it was actually the student responding or if it could be someone else. Robert Thompson stated that the faculty do not have the opportunity to interfere, and that students must log on to the evaluation using their own identification number. Everett (Faculty Assembly) expressed concern about personnel decisions being made between on and off campus evaluation comparisons. Following discussion, the recommendations on the Undergraduate Distance Education-Student Opinion of Instruction Survey were approved as presented. RESOLUTION #00-24 (Please refer to the list of resolutions at the end of this report for the recommendations.)
