We pay respect to eight recognized tribes; Coharie, Eastern Band of Cherokee, Haliwa-Saponi, Lumbee, Meherrin, Occaneechi Band of Saponi, Sappony, and Waccamaw-Siouan, all Nations, and their elders past, present, and emerging.

V. Report of Committees

A. Committee on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, Rachel Roper

Professor Roper (Medicine), Committee member, presented a report of committee activities and the template/example language for addressing diversity, equity, and inclusion throughout unit codes. She highlighted the Bias in SSOI Module that is available to faculty to include in their Canvas course sites (here: <https://lor.instructure.com/resources/13b4d1b9b5014154bd65c88888c9850f?shared>).

Professor Roper also discussed the example language for unit codes in some detail, and discussed some of the future topics for the Committee.

Discussion

Professor Medina (Foreign Languages and Literatures) said a member of her department sent her some concerns with the template language. One concern was whether this was presented for information or as a document that would be approved by the Faculty Senate.

Chair Martínez said it was not presented for approval, but is functioning as an example for units.

Professor Roper said it was approved by the Brody School of Medicine, the Unit Code Screening Committee, and the Committee on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion.

Chair Martínez clarified it was approved as a good example for units to use if they want to see examples of how this could be done.

Professor Medina went on to present additional concerns from the person in her department. They could find no definitions of diversity, equity, and inclusion in the template, the ECU Faculty Manual, the Committee charge, nor materials from the Office for Equity and Diversity.

Professor Roper said the Committee has been working on the definition from the Office for Equity and Diversity. The Committee is looking for official definitions from the government and the UNC System and hoping to getting a firm definition for those words in the near future.

Professor Medina said another concern expressed was that the template has some slippery language, like professionalism defined as continuing education, especially diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) training, which is not what most people mean by professionalism. Also, professional conduct is defined as respect for minority and historically underrepresented groups, which raises questions for how faculty demonstrate that respect in PADs (personnel action dossiers) and how tenure and promotion committees evaluate those.

Professor Roper said that is why they included examples for each of those. A lot of things in these guidelines are subjective, but we don't define professionalism as being good with diversity, but it is one of the aspects that you treat people with respect and take the required training.

Professor Medina related another concern, which was that in one sentence the example document said faculty may include a DEI section in the PAD and in the next sentence said that it should be included.

Professor Roper said that it was up to your department or discipline. There are debates about whether you should have it and the Unit Code Screening Committee will go through these and can decide whether to recommend it to Faculty Senate or not.

Professor Medina said she had additional concerns from the faculty member in her unit but would share those with Professor Roper via email, because they might require longer responses.

B. Nominating Committee for Faculty Officers

Professor Bauer (English) thanked her fellow members of the Nominating Committee for their work. Those members were Professors Amanda Haberstroh, Mark Moss, Susan Pearce, and Steve Schmidt. She provided a slate of candidates for the 2022/2023 Faculty Officers. After calls for nominations from the floor and elections, the following faculty were elected to serve as Faculty Officers during the 2022/2023 academic year.

Anne Ticknor (Education), Chair of the Faculty

Mark Bowler (Psychology), Vice Chair of the Faculty

Melinda Doty (Engineering and Technology), Secretary of the Faculty

C. Committee on Committees

Prior to the start of the Committee report, Chair Martínez explained that when the number of nominations for a committee match the number of open seats, once it is verified that no further nominations are forthcoming, the nominations can be declared closed and the slate of candidates can be considered elected by acclamation/general consent. She also noted that the names of the candidates would not be read, but would instead be projected onscreen, and said this would help save time. In cases where there are more nominees than open seats on a committee, Senators will have as many votes as there are open slots.

Professor Doty (Engineering and Technology) thanked the Committee on Committee members for their hard work in compiling the list of nominees, then presented a slate of candidates for University Academic, Administrative, Appellate and Board of Trustees Committees. Following a call for nominations from the floor to fill vacancies, the following faculty members with names noted in bold print were elected to serve. Information relating to standing University committees is available online. Faculty elected to serve will be notified via email over the summer of the Fall committee organizational meeting dates.

Organizational dates for the Graduate Council and administrative committees will be forthcoming directly from the various administrative offices. Anyone with questions is encouraged to contact the Faculty Senate office at [faculty senate@ecu.edu](mailto:faculty senate@ecu.edu), or call 328-6537.
